

OVERVIEW

If you have an entrepreneurial spirit and want to build your own business, you'll first need to learn about starting and operating a company. Finding investors, creating an LLC, and hiring employees are all steep tasks. Luckily, York Technical College in Rock Hill, SC offers an associate's degree in business administration with a specialization in entrepreneurship. This program covers communications, accounting, business law, small business operations, and more, preparing you to launch your own successful company.

An entrepreneur needs to be a jack of all trades, familiar with every aspect of running a business. Why? Because they are the ones running every department until they are able to hire a team. That's why being an entrepreneur requires a strong sense of motivation. It's important, when starting a business, to consistently visualize where you want your business to be in the future, because that can make the long hours and hard work more bearable.

The best part about being an entrepreneur is that you get to be your own boss. If you've felt underutilized or underappreciated in the workplace, this probably sounds appealing to you. Entrepreneurs get to set their own hours and goals, and success is whatever you want it to be. Start an exciting career as an entrepreneur by getting your training at York Tech today!
